

THE PLACE OF ENGAGEMENT

Applicant Commitment

The Collaborative Futures Academy is free of charge but it is a uniquely valuable and competitive opportunity. If you are offered a place, you are expected to fully commit to the entirety of the programme. By applying to join the CFA, you acknowledge the following:

- You are expected to attend all 3 live Academy days from 1 - 3 July 2025 online. Please note the days in your calendar when you apply. Once accepted, we can provide a document confirming your successful application if you need to get permission from your employer or institution.
- We ask you to actively participate in the live online sessions, as far as this is possible for you and your circumstances. This means ensuring you have a functioning internet connection, are able to speak online and have your camera on (taking into account limitations on connection and bandwidth). If you have any concerns about this or this provides a challenge, please talk to us in advance.
- We expect you to complete any required preparatory reading and exercises, which we will share ahead of the Academy. It will not be a huge time commitment (no more than 3h for mandatory preparation) but will ensure everyone starts from a common point.
- By joining the Academy, you commit to respect and adhere to the common ground rules we establish together in the beginning of the programme.
